"Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." (Hebrews 11:1)

Lent Poem

"And so, without having planned it,
all that we considered urgent,
our full agendas,
the programs and activities,
what we thought we could do without...
all fall from our hands.

And we enter into a desert
where perhaps the truth awaits us,
that for which we never have time.

And so Lent truly begins to be even more Lent."

FDR's First Inauguration Address

"...the only thing we have to fear is fear itself..."

"So, first of all, let me assert my firm belief that the only thing we have to fear is fear itself—nameless, unreasoning, unjustified terror which paralyzes needed efforts to convert retreat into advance."

(<http://historymatters.gmu.edu/d/5057/>) FDR, 4 March 1933 (87 yrs. ago).

[This line appears in the first paragraph of his first inauguration address. The depth of Great Depression had begun; panic and terror had overtaken the nation. Interestingly, eventually he personally suffered from & bore courageously polio – also from a virus].

It is Sacred Heart's privilege to announce the recent publication of a book review produced by Rev. George Mangiaracina, OCD. The review has appeared in the Catholic Books Review, located here:

<http://www.catholicbooksreview.org/2020/anello.html>. As you will see from the reference below, he reviewed a monograph produced by one of our former faculty members, Fr. Bob Anello.

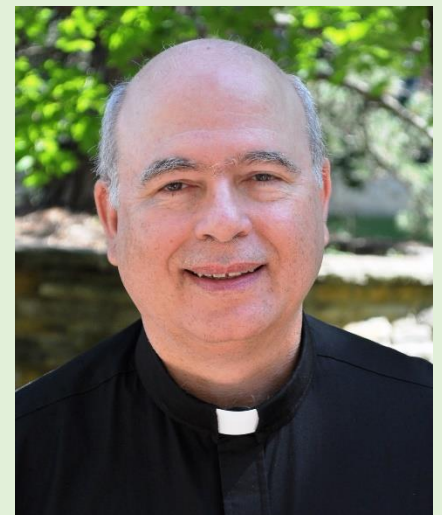

The reference is:

Mangiaracina, George. 2020. Review of Minor Setback or Major Disaster?: The Rise and Demise of Minor Seminaries in the United States by Rev. Robert Anello. Catholic Books Review 02/2020.

In this review, Fr. George shares, "Until I read this book I had accepted the thesis that it was inevitable, but now, having read this book, I see that the demise of the seminaries could have been forestalled with more creative thinking in the lines of consolidation, a better definition of the identity of the priest and faith in a young man hearing his calling to the priesthood at an early period of his life."

Congratulations, Fr. George!

Congratulations!

Open Door Café

Cor Unum student Shanedra Johnson runs the Open Door Café at the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist. Due to the coronavirus, the café had to shift from serving hot meals to bagged lunches. Pictured below are some other Sacred Heart students – less than 10 and keeping distance – who pitched in to help last Sunday. Back row: Leah Sealey, Shanedra Johnson, Shanedra's sister NyAnn Cox, Terri Engsborg. Front row: Monica Misesy and Cindi Petre.

Although we do not know what volunteers will be allowed in the future, you can contact Shanedra if interested: sjohnson@shsst.edu. The café also needs food shoppers. People have asked if they can make a monetary donation. Checks should be made payable to the Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist; please write "Open Door Café" in the memo. The address is 831 N. Van Buren St., Milwaukee, WI 53202.

Happy Birthday To...

Hired Before Graduation!

Congratulations to Cor Unum student Jenny Frank! Jenny was recently hired as a chaplain by ProHealth Home Health Hospice. Jenny, we know you will be a blessing to many people in this ministry!

KANSAS

Thank you, Fr. Michael Leiker, for sending us this hilarious meme!

Fr. Michael Leiker, a Sacred Heart alumnus, is from the Diocese of Salina, Kansas and can relate to the image well.

Thank you for putting smiles on our faces!
