Congratulations Fr. Vien Nguyen, SCJ!

It is Sacred Heart's pleasure to announce a new publication by Fr. Vien Nguyen, SCJ.

Nguyen, Vien V. Religious Life for Our World: Creating Communities of Hope by Maria Cimperman. Review for Religious 1.1 (Summer 2021), pp. 124-25.

Here is an excerpt from his review:

Religious communities have a storied history in their response to God's call and specific realities and cries of the people in the world and the Church. Today, religious women and men are being asked once again to be mystics and prophets in the new frontiers of gospel calls (19) to "wake up the world," as reminded by Pope Francis. But what are we to do? How are we to create communities of hope that function as a transformative witness of the inbreaking of the Reign of God in the world? (xvii). Cimperman attempts to answer these questions in the book. Through the lenses of call, charism, and vows, C. examines the different dimensions of consecrated life and addresses the different ways religious congregations can create communities of hope, locally and globally, as a response to the cries of the people and the earth.

Creating communities of hope for the twenty-first century requires being attuned to the Spirit's calls for "interior conversion, internal transformation, and external revitalization." C. addresses these calls in two parts. Part One focuses on 1) the current realities in the world, the church, and of consecrated life, 2) the call and gifts of the Spirit to respond to God and the cries around us, personally and communally, and 3) a life of prayer in relationship with God to follow the Risen Christ in missionary discipleship and mystical-prophetic life. In Part Two, C. examines the evangelical counsels of chastity, poverty, and obedience, which are lived out daily in prayer, community, and ministry. Call, charism, vows, prayer, community, ministry—all are interconnected. Each chapter ends with questions for reflection and discussion to help readers enter a process of conversion, transformation, and revitalization.

Congratulations, Fr. Vien!
