Dehonian Spirituality

“Purely private and personal Christianity is a false, or at least seriously incomplete Christianity. We must be social Christians who bring about the reign of Christ in social life as in private life.”

– Leo John Dehon, SCJ, “Social Action of the Third Order of St. Francis

Mass and Holy Hour for Peace

As our nation faces deep division and hardship, the USCCB has called Catholics to unite in prayer during a Holy Hour for Peace. Archbishop Coakley’s said in his reflection and invitation, “May this Holy Hour be a moment of renewal for our hearts and for our nation. Entrusting our fears and hopes to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, let us ask the Lord to make us instruments of his peace and witnesses to the inherent dignity of every person.” On Wednesday, February 4, we joined together as a community at our all-school Mass, to lift up our up prayers for peace, justice, and reconciliation in our country and the world. Fr. José González presided and preached at the Mass. In his moving homily Fr. José said “The heart of Jesus is the heart of the world, and it continues to be moved by the pain and suffering of our brothers and sisters” May we carry these words and prayers beyond the chapel, allowing Christ’s peace to shape our words, our actions, and our care for one another in the days ahead.

Engaging Lux Lecture

On February 4, Moshe Katz, Chairman of the Jewish Community Foundation and a long-time board member of The Lux Center led a powerful and timely conversation with the Sacred Heart community. The room was filled with students, staff, and faculty who showed up in great numbers and engaged deeply with the lecture and the discussion that followed. Moshe’s talk sparked meaningful and honest conversations about the future of Catholic Jewish relations, the troubling rise of antisemitism in the United States, and the shared responsibility of faith communities to respond with courage, solidarity, and hope. The thoughtful questions and active participation in the room reflected a real commitment to learning, listening, and building relationships across faith lines. Thank you to everyone who joined us and helped make this gathering such an enriching and impactful moment for our community!
